DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-13 have been canceled. Claims 14-38 have been added.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 14-17, 37 and 38, drawn to HLA-F antigens, comprising SEQ ID NO:5 and 6, HLA-F antigens encoded by SEQ ID NO:1, 2 and 3 and kits comprising HLA-F antigens, classified in class 530, subclasses 300 and 350.
 - II. Claims 18-32, drawn to DNA encoding the HLA-F antigen of Group I and the recombinant expression of said DNA, classified in class 536, subclass 23.5 and class 435, subclass 69.1.
 - III. Claims 34-36, drawn to a method of diagnosing cancer comprising detecting an anti-HLA-F antigen antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Groups I and II are structurally and functionally different products which are made by different methods and have different uses. The examination of all groups would require different searches in the U.S. Patent Shoes and the scientific literature and would require the consideration of different patentability issues.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the antigens of Group I can be used in a process to raise an antibody.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter and because the searches required for the groups are not co-extensive, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1642

4. With the election of any Invention I, II or III a further election of a single HLA-F antigen as encoded by SEQ ID NO:1, 2 or 3 is required. Each antigen is structurally and functionally a different product. The examination of all genes would require different searches in the U.S. Patent Shoes and the scientific literature and would require the consideration of different patentability issues. Because these genes are distinct for the reasons given above and because the searches required for the genes are not co-extensive, restriction for examination purposes is considered proper. Identification of the protein encoded by SEQ ID NO:1, 2 or 3 as the amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO:5 or 6 is required with the election of the DNA of SEQ ID NO:1, 2 or 3. Please note that this further election is a restriction requirement and not an election of species.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitation of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of M.P.E.P. 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitation of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 C.F.R. 1.312.

In the event of a rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 C.F.R. 1.104. thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet the criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. 103(b), 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or otherwise include the limitation of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See M.P.E.P. 804.01.
